

Chapter 1-what is happening?

One emotionless brisk twilight there was a girl no older than 21 years old (Alejandra Lerner the cousin of Ishmael Lerner Junior) who was in a coma for 5 months had been taken out of the hospital for an experiment. To see if a venomous-spider bite could wake her. After day one the subject remained in a comatose state. Suddenly the test subject woke up with no memory of who she was. The surgeon who was in charge of this test subject was furious that she had no memory but that of a past serial killer unknown to Hollywood. The next few days the surgeon had to come up with an alibi of where he was at the time of Alejandra Lerner's disappearance. The Colonel in charge of the case was a Maria Emma of the DPI a police force in Columbia for women.

A few years later Alejandra gave herself a new cover as she had no memories except of those she killed. Her new cover was an American drug trafficker Rosa Diaz. At first it was a blast getting to become the head of the Columbian cartel but when the real Rosa Diaz was found dead in New York's national park. That is when her cover was blown so she changed her name to Laura De Santa an intern at the New York police department, with this cover she could get rid of all documents of Alejandra Lerner. Little did the police know that 'Laura' Alejandra was there to assassinate a Cristobel Porto the chief commissioner of the NYPD.

The next month or so Laura was made a cop and had the perfect chance to take out the chief commissioner and ask for who she really is as she is an unnamed serial homicide victim as she had no clue of what was going on. The day of the hearing Alejandra came back to the world as Alejandra Lerner with no recollection of her homicidal crimes and so she was put into a mental institution to help those with Schizophrenia and split personality disorder. This institute did not help Laura it made her worse. This was not the worse as in suicidal but this was a homicidal feeling a feeling she knew way too much when her Alta Jayne kiarea came out and took over her body.

The next day Jayne faked her death and had escaped in a transport van to the city morgue. She killed the Medical Examiner who had tried to open her up. This was the same motive as before but something was off about Jayne a new Alta Amelia Di Diavlo a super psychotic murderer that tortured their victims with surrounding items before blowing the building up with no evidence of her ever being there. A couple days later with 'Laura' Alejandra back to being normal and scared so she called the police and was put back in the same mental hospital.

Chapter 2- The death of Alejandra's roommate

When Alejandra arrived she had heard on the news that her former roommate was found murdered in the alley way next to the 'morgue' the same morgue that Amelia blew up but Sundry Hazoia's body was placed there after the explosion but Alejandra new that she killed the roommate and dragged her in the alley-way. Where she died of radiation poisoning from the explosion. Thanks to Alejandra being ready for the murders she was ready to stage the fact that she has multi personalities. The next 5 years went by like days and she was now 40 years old and being transported to a Columbian black-site. This black-site used to be owned by the CIA and the FBI, this would be the last place Alejandra would see. However, a covert ops team broke her out in transit and used her as a weapon. But little did they know she turned on them as they were her next targets but she was detained before committing a crime.

Alejandra had escaped being detained using another Persona 'Kira Zapata' a world renown neurosurgeon who is a word renown money & medicine embezzler for the KGB. With this cover she could take down the covert ops team that broke her out of the black-site. This black-site was an underground ex-military interrogation room. However, this room was turned into a torture room. A torture room is, a room as you guessed it, a room used to torture prisoners for information. If that does not work, they will starve said prisoner until they will comply. If prisoners still do not comply then they will be dehydrated over and over until they have complied.

When the KGB found out about Alejandra she had already used a different alias; 'Loretta Calzone' a psychology student in America who is also a MI6 operative on the run. They tried freezing all her bank accounts but she unfroze them with military grade drones. When she was found she was sent to Alcatraz for the murder of foreign operatives. When en-route she took a guard prisoner. And escaped but was sent back on a mission from her terrorist boss Wolfgang Skittlesberg. However, when she got to her headquarters Wolfgang was beheaded by Freddie Krueger in an inevitable battle against the masked murderer Jason Voorhees, when she looked at the wall she saw a doll that looked like her called Sushimi. This doll had devilish eyes, a lilac blue tunic with diamond-encrusted collar.

Chapter 3- Is this the end for Krueger

Near the end of the battle Krueger had his knives broken by Sushimi who was possessed by a child taking demon named Baggia. The doll was then picked up by Voorhees, who ended up being a dead puppet for Baggia to use. In the battle between the two Jason loses his mask and ends up having Baggia's face and scaring Krueger into a suicidal rage. This rage lasts until Baggia gets another host. Baggia only does this in order to have a body on earth as she was denied this for 2 centuries after being savagely tortured for kidnapping children and brainwashing them into believing that they are her, this then led to so many deaths of a country's future.

The next few months flew past like flies, in the coming days Voorhees was found dead in Camp Crystal lake's forest whereas Krueger was never found. Sushimi was found and thought of as an innocent child's toy. The doll 'Sushimi' was sold to a lonely girl of 16 years of age who was an orphan due to the battle as her father was Voorhees. This girl took the doll's name and ended up becoming possessed by Baggia. If found this girl would need the total help of the weird sisters (witches).

These sisters are not to be trusted as they are the same ones that tricked Macbeth. If you see three witches with a young child do not approach, just ignore and walk away.

Chapter 4- The End Of The Beginning Of Everything.

Five years had passed and no one was suspecting a thing as they all believed that the girl was with the witches, but sadly she was in their houses placing forget me knot binders around you until you couldn't handle the pain of forgetting and so if you called her name she would teleport next to you and suck your soul out with a single touch. NEVER! Say the name Sushimi without thinking out a plan to prevent her from stealing your very essence, as she is always twelve steps ahead of you so think of something but don't think of something. Did you really believe that Alejandra couldn't protect herself enough to not survive? Well you are wrong she was really just in Columbia with her cousin Ishmael (Ishmael was protected from SUSHIMI so he is fine and so is everyone around him).
