got to get rid of the mice Joe Strong said i know his wife agreed but what are we going to do? Jenny asked you know what? I'm going to set mouse traps tonight There son Thor said from the door way of the living room !good idea his father said happaly we can both do that right after dinner OK Thor said Thor skipped of the room he was only eight years old , he looked like his father in manny ways. They were both boney and they both had long faces and there ears stuck out and there eyes were deep blue and a sharp nose and the same smile. That night for Dinner they had porkchops and rice and corn. After dinner they had apple pie that night, They went to bed thinking about ways to get rid the mice.

Jack was still awake when Ben came in the room hours later "There'e trying to get rid of us" he said "who?" Jack asked the family. Ben said "they know we're in the house with them but how? jack asked I don't know ben said I betthat cat worned them about us ,mmhmm jack agreed I can't stand those people that's why they want to getrid of us . they can't stand us either !oh and that cat is still looking for us so mom and dad both said we should stay hiddin

Chapter 4

Thor ate his breakfast at the table. When he was done with his breckfust he got ready for school, his father was already at work. He Worked at A repair shop that could fix clothes and shoes. His mother on the other hand worked at A Apple store and when she was not in the store, she still took Phone calls from her Customers, he said good by to his Mother and left the house.

Chapter five

"They're gone" said Goldy "they are?" Tim and Gim asked at the same time "yes Goldy" said I saw them leaving the house but the cat is still there though. "we know" snapped their Mother. That's why we're still hiding "but I guess we could come out and look around "sounds good to me" said Jack. They all agreed with him so they left their hiding place and went down stairs to the kitchen for a snack but just then they heard a hissing noise from behind the stove the mouse family knew they were in trouble and they had to hide quickly because the cat might eat them all. Tom was taking a nap when he heard the mice coming into the Kitchen so they were going to get a snack a? he said to himself well they won't be getting any snacks here they can think again The mice went back into their hiding spot with nothing but a big hole in the wall of the house So now what are we going to eat? asked Goldy I don't know said Ben but where's Ooble? she was not with them I hope she didn't get eaten by that cat said their father I'll go look for her but just then Ooble came into the hiding spot with a bag full of food I managed to sneak by the cat and went into the fridge

Chapter six

Thor was day dreaming in his class when Mr Nickles called "Thor can you come back?" It's your turn to read his friend Kent nudged him. They were reading a book called wonder. after he read he had to write about what happened in the story. The book was about a kid that had a strange face when he got home from school he went to the Kitchen to get a snack and then he started on his homework. That night when his Mother and father came home they bought mouse traps with them they could not wait to set them Just then Ooble came into the room, shouting ! there setting traps right now she had the best eye sight out of all of them !oh no Jack yelled hide quick they all found places to hide chapter four Thor could not wait to set traps tonight he was so happy they were going to get rid of the mouse family once and for all just then their cat Tom trotted into the Kitchen announcing his need for food so Thor filled the cat's food bowl and his water bowl".and made himself a plate of ham and Pancakes and bacon

Chapter 7

The mice looked out from where they were hiding in search of the cat but they did not see him "I think we can come out now" whispered Their father slowly got out of their hiding spot and headed to the Kitchen for a snack but then they saw six mouse traps there were three by the stove and three by the fridge. the mice went back into their hiding spot

Chapter Eight

When the Strong family woke up the next morning they saw that the traps had no mice on them. Thor's Father was so angry "I thought we would get rid of them once and for all" he yelled. The next night they tried again to get rid of the mice this time they made a trap house with some cheese in it but the mice still would not come out.

Chapter nine

After two weeks the family decided sided to pack up and leave "we can't stay in this house any more" Joe said "not with these darn mice". Tom was mad because he had to leave his only home after all he was a homeless cat when the Strangers found him on their doorstep Looking for food and a house to live in and now he was losing it all because of those stupid ugly old mice. He got in his crate hissing all the while I can't stand those mice he grumbled"

Chapter ten

"guys I have some good news" Ople squeaked . "The family left this morning." "yeah I'm glad" said the twins. me to said Jack. "We did it" every one shouted but the good news did not last long It was Goldy's turn to get food from the Kitchen and when she came back with more food she sighed and said "there's another Family moving in and we must leave immediately" so the mice went to an abandoned home in Hana and had a huge party and they decided to live together forever
